

FINDING YOUR NEW BEST FRIEND

Erin's daughter loves her dog Scruffy and wants a companion for him to play with while she is at school. After careful considerations, Erin and her husband decided it's a good idea to adopt another dog from a local shelter.

Erin and her husband went online to search for dogs that is up for adoption at their local humane society.

With the interactive adoption process, Erin and her husband easily filled out all the adoption papers online. Then, all they need to do is find a dog that is a good fit for their family.

With searchable filter options for breed, age, gender, size, and behavior, Erin's husband narrowed it down to a few dogs. He was able to share his choices with Erin by saving the dogs' profiles to their account.

After a thorough search, Erin and her family found a Corgi named Lucky who seems like a perfect match. They were able to view photos, videos, and read detailed information about Lucky on the website.

Since all of their paperwork was completed and approved online, they got to meet Lucky in person and bring him home the very next day. Scruffy and Lucky are now best friends and love to play with Erin's daughter.
